ZERO TOLERANCE FOR SEXUAL MISCONDUCT

Eastern Florida State College is committed to maintaining a safe and healthy learning and working environment that promotes responsibility and respect, and where no one is unlawfully excluded from participation in, denied the benefits of, or subjected to discrimination in any College program or activity on the basis of sex or gender. To that end, the College has zero tolerance for sexual or gender-based harassment, sexual violence, dating violence, domestic violence, stalking, and other sexually-related offenses, collectively referred to as Sexual Misconduct.

Any member of the College community found to have engaged in any form of Sexual Misconduct is subject to institutional discipline in addition to any penalties that may be imposed by a court of law.

6. You are strongly encouraged to preserve evidence to the greatest extent possible.
 - Do not alter, dispose of, or destroy any physical evidence. If there is suspicion that a drink may have been drugged, inform a medical assistance provider and/or law enforcement as soon as possible so they can attempt to collect possible evidence.
 - Preserve evidence of electronic communications by saving them and/or by taking screen shots of text messages, instant messages, social networking pages, or other electronic communications, and by keeping pictures, logs, or copies of documents that relate to the incident and/or perpetrator.
 - An individual who has been sexually assaulted should not shower, bathe, douche, smoke, brush teeth, eat, drink, or change clothes or bedding before going to the hospital or seeking medical attention.
7. Choose how to proceed. You have options and may pursue whatever combination of options is best for you:
 - You can do nothing until you are ready; but please be aware that delays in reporting an incident can jeopardize the outcome of a successful prosecution or administrative finding due to a degrading of available evidence and other factors.
 - If you wish to have an incident investigated and resolved by the College, contact the Title IX Compliance Coordinator, Chief Equity and Diversity Officer, or Chief of Security.
 - Those who wish to initiate criminal proceedings should contact the law enforcement agency serving the area where the incident took place. If you would like assistance in contacting law enforcement, please visit any Campus Security Office.
 - Petition the court for a restraining order or "injunction." If you would like to petition the court for an injunction against the perpetrator, contact a local Clerk of Courts Office. Click here for information on the injunction process and your rights as a victim.
 - To pursue other civil legal remedies against the perpetrator, contact an attorney.

REPORTING OPTIONS AND CONFIDENTIALITY

Right to Report. The College encourages you to talk to someone about what happened so you can get the help you need, and so the College can respond appropriately. But ultimately it's your right to report or not report the incident, and it's your right to decide who to report to, if anyone.

Right to Contact Police. While the College encourages police involvement whenever Sexual Misconduct is potentially criminal in nature, it's your right to decide whether to contact the police. If you would like assistance in contacting the police, visit the Security Office on campus.

Reports to the College. It is important to understand that when any College employee receives information alleging Sexual Misconduct, he or she is obligated to forward the information to other College officials to investigate and provide an appropriate response. Thus, any report made to a College employee is not confidential. A person who reports to a College employee may request confidentiality, and such a request will be considered by the College in determining an appropriate response, but the College may have to override the request for confidentiality in order to meet its legal obligations under Title IX and other laws. It should be noted that while confidentiality cannot be guaranteed, any information received by the College will be kept as private as possible and only shared with individuals who "need to know" in order to review, investigate, and provide an appropriate response.

Confidential Reporting Options. If confidentiality is important to you, please note that any reports made to sexual assault counselors, domestic violence advocates, members of the clergy, psychotherapists, psychiatrists, and other medical professionals, while such persons are acting in their official capacities, may be confidential. Please confirm the person's ability to keep confidentiality before you confide in the person. Individuals who consult with confidential resources should note that their discussions in these settings are not considered reports to the College, and will not result in any action by the College.

REPORTS INVOLVING MINORS

Pursuant to Florida law, College officials are obligated to report known or suspected child abuse, abandonment, or neglect to the Department of Children and Families. Accordingly, the College cannot guarantee confidentiality for any report of Sexual Misconduct it receives involving a person under the age of 18.

IF YOU REPORT SEXUAL MISCONDUCT, THIS IS HOW THE COLLEGE WILL RESPOND

- I. Initial Report to College. When any member of the College community reports an allegation of Sexual Misconduct, College personnel will document the report and provide such person (referred to as the "reporting party") with a copy of this Resource Guide. Upon receipt of such a report, College personnel will conduct a preliminary inquiry into the reported allegations. Depending on the outcome of the preliminary inquiry, options for resolution may be explored.
- II. Informal Resolution. In appropriate instances where it is deemed possible and safe, Informal Resolution options may be considered. The College will not use the Informal Resolution process to address matters alleging any form of Sexual Violence (see page 11). If Informal Resolution is appropriate, a college representative(s) may meet separately with

HOW TO REQUEST AN INJUNCTION OR ACCOMMODATION

Victims of Sexual Misconduct may request an “injunction” from the court, which is an order signed by a judge that prohibits the perpetrator from contacting the victim or from being in places where the victim lives, works, attends school, etc. An injunction is obtained by going to a local Clerk of Courts Office:

Brevard County Clerk of Courts
50 South Nieman Avenue
Melbourne, FL 32901
(321) 637-6548

Brevard County Clerk of Courts
400 South Street
Titusville, FL 32780
(321) 637-6521

Brevard County Clerk of Courts
Moore Justice Center
2825 Judge Fran Jamieson Way
Viera, FL 32940
(321) 637-5413 (option 2, then 0)

In addition, regardless of whether an incident is reported to the College or whether an injunction has been requested, victims may request changes to academic, living, transportation, and/or working situations, and/or request protective measures, such as placing institutional limitations on contact, if such measures are reasonably available. Assistance with financial aid is also available if needed.

To request these type of accommodations, please contact the College’s Chief Equity and Diversity Officer, or the Title IX Compliance Coordinator (see page 2 or 15 for contact information).

both parties to present and discuss an informal resolution based on the information available. In the Informal Resolution process, the college representative(s) does not serve in the role of fact finder but rather identifies possible resolutions to the alleged conduct. If both parties are satisfied with a proposed resolution and the Title IX Compliance Coordinator believes the resolution satisfies the College’s obligation to provide a safe and non-discriminatory environment for the entire College community, the resolution will be implemented, and the matter will be closed. If these efforts are unsuccessful, the Formal Investigation process may commence.

III. Procedures for Formal Investigation. The College will determine whether an individual is responsible for a violation of the College’s Sexual Misconduct policy and procedure, and what, if any, disciplinary sanctions and/or remedial actions are appropriate, in accordance with the procedures described below:

1. The individual(s) accused of Sexual Misconduct shall be provided with notice of the allegations, and a copy of the College’s Sexual Misconduct policy and this procedure.
2. The reporting party and the responding party are both entitled to be advised about the estimated timeframe of the investigation.
3. The College will administer a fair and impartial investigation, which may include a formal hearing at the request of the reporting party, the responding party, or Title IX Compliance Coordinator. The person conducting the investigation (“investigator”) shall be familiar with the College’s Sexual Misconduct policy and this procedure and have training or experience in conducting Sexual Misconduct investigations.
4. Formal investigations may include, but are not limited to, conducting separate interviews with the reporting party, the responding party, and any witnesses, reviewing available law enforcement investigation documents, reviewing student and personnel files, and gathering and examining other relevant documents or evidence as appropriate. A formal investigation may also include a formal hearing, which shall afford each party the opportunity to present any relevant information to the investigator. Throughout a formal investigation, disclosure of facts to parties and witnesses shall be limited to what is reasonably necessary to conduct a fair and thorough investigation and hearing (if applicable) and in accordance with state and federal laws.
5. Upon request, the reporting party and the responding party may each have a representative (“advisor”) present when he or she is interviewed and at any subsequent proceeding, hearing, or related meeting. Other witnesses may have a representative present at the discretion of the investigator or as required by applicable College policy or collective bargaining agreement.
6. Requests for a formal hearing must be made in writing and received by the Title IX Compliance Coordinator (or designee) within five (5) business days of the report of Sexual Misconduct for reporting parties, and within five (5) business days of receipt of the notice of allegations for responding parties. A business day constitutes a day where the College is open for business. Any requests for a formal hearing made after these deadlines will only be granted upon showing of good cause.

7. Any formal hearing will be conducted by the investigator, and both parties shall be given reasonable notice and an equal opportunity to present relevant information to the investigator, as well as have an advisor of their choice present, although that advisor's role may be limited at the discretion of the investigator. The investigator shall have no authority to compel the attendance of either party or any witness, and neither party, nor their advisor, may personally question or cross-examine the other party or any witness. Any questions for cross-examination must be submitted to the investigator, who shall have the sole discretion to ask or not ask a particular question as he or she deems appropriate. Further, no questions about a reporting party's sexual history with anyone other than the responding party shall be allowed.
8. If requested or appropriate, alternative testimony options will be given for any formal hearing, such as placing a privacy screen in the hearing room, or allowing the reporting party or any witness to testify outside the physical presence of the responding party, such as by Skype or phone. While these options are intended to help make the reporting party or witness more comfortable, they are not intended to work to the disadvantage of the responding party. Any requests for alternative testimony options must be received by the investigator at least seventy-two (72) hours prior to the formal hearing.
9. If any party or witness fails to appear for a formal hearing, the hearing will be conducted in their absence.
10. Any hearings may be recorded (audio or video), transcribed, or otherwise documented at the discretion of the investigator and/or Title IX Compliance Coordinator.
11. At the conclusion of the formal investigation, a written report shall be prepared and contain, at a minimum, a statement of the allegations and issues, the positions of the parties, a summary of the evidence, the findings of fact, and a determination as to whether the College's Sexual Misconduct policy and procedure has been violated.
12. The "preponderance-of-the-evidence" standard (i.e. more likely than not) shall be used in determining whether or not there has been a violation of the College's Sexual Misconduct policy and procedure.
13. The reporting party and the responding party will be informed in writing of:
 - a. The result of the formal investigation (i.e. whether the College's Sexual Misconduct policy and procedure was violated);
 - b. The procedures for appealing the result of the investigation;
 - c. Any change to the result that occurs prior to the time that such result becomes final; and
 - d. When the result becomes final.
 - e. In addition to the above, the reporting party shall also be informed in writing of any individual remedies offered or provided to the reporting party, and/or any sanctions imposed on the responding party, whether or not they directly relate to the reporting party. Further, the reporting party shall be informed of steps the College has taken to eliminate the hostile environment, if the College finds one to exist, and steps taken to prevent recurrence. The responding party shall not be notified of the individual remedies offered or provided to the reporting party.
14. The reporting party and the responding party may request a copy of the investigative report pursuant to College policy governing privacy and access to personal information. However, the report shall be redacted to protect any confidential information in accordance with College policy and state law.
15. The reporting party and/or the responding party may appeal the result of the formal investigation. Any appeal must be submitted in writing to the College's Title IX Compliance Coordinator within seven (7) days of the result becoming final. All appeals shall be based upon one or more of the following: (1) improper procedures materially affected the result of the investigation; (2) newly discovered material information or evidence was obtained that was not available at time of the investigation or hearing (if applicable) and would have a significant impact on the result; or (3) the sanction imposed was inappropriate for the offense in question. Dissatisfaction with the result is not grounds for appeal. Any sanctions imposed will not be stayed during the appeals process.

16. The appeal shall consist of a plain, concise, and complete written statement outlining the grounds for appeal. Upon receipt of the appeal, the College's Title IX Compliance Coordinator or designee will provide the other party notice of the appeal and the opportunity to respond in writing to the appeal. Any response must be submitted within seven (7) days from the notice of appeal. In the event both parties initially appeal the result, each party will be provided notice and a copy of the other party's appeal or response.

17. Any appeal will be conducted in an impartial manner by an assigned appeals officer, which may include oral argument at the sole and absolute discretion of the appeals officer.

18. In any appeal, the burden of proof lies with the party requesting the result and/or sanction be modified in some respect, as the original result and sanction are presumed to be decided reasonably and appropriately. The appeal is not a new review of the underlying matter. The appeals officer shall consider the merits of an appeal only on the basis of the three stated grounds for appeal (as identified in paragraph 15 above).

19. The appeals officer can affirm the original result, alter the result, and/or alter the sanctions, depending on the basis of the requested appeal. If the appeal is based on improper procedures, the appeals officer can ask that a new investigation and/or adjudication, or other appropriate action, occur. In the case of newly discovered material information or evidence, the appeals officer can recommend that the case be returned to the investigator to assess the weight and effect of the newly discovered information or evidence and render a determination after considering the new information or evidence.

20. The appeals officer will communicate the result of the appeal to the parties within fourteen (14) days from the date of the submission of all appeal documents by both parties, or the date of oral argument (if any), whichever is later. The decision of the appeals officer is final.

VICTIM RIGHTS IN CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS

If victims of Sexual Misconduct decide to initiate criminal proceedings, Chapter 960 of the Florida Statutes is intended to establish guidelines for fair treatment of victims and witnesses in the criminal justice system. Victims, including the next of kin of a homicide victim, have the right to be informed, to be present, and to be heard when relevant at all crucial stages of a criminal proceeding, to the extent that this right does not interfere with the constitutional rights of the accused. The implementation of Chapter 960 is the cornerstone of ensuring that these rights for victims are met.

FLORIDA SEXUAL OFFENDERS AND PREDATORS

The Florida Department of Law Enforcement ("FDLE") maintains an active list of sexual offenders (which includes sexual predators) in the State of Florida. FDLE provides a variety of ways to search their database to acquire information pertaining to sex offenders in their neighborhood or on college and university campuses. To learn more about sexual offenders in our state, please visit the FDLE website at: <https://offender.fdle.state.fl.us/offender/>.

In addition, FDLE has also established the following toll-free number for public access to FDLE's Missing Persons and Offender Registration: 1-888-FL-PREDATOR (1-888-357-7332). By contacting FDLE at this number, the public can request information about Sexual Offenders living in their communities and around the state. Requests may be made using this toll-free number on business days, between 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. (EST), Monday through Friday.

Additional information about College policies and procedures related to Sexual Misconduct can be found in the College's Annual Security Report: www.easternflorida.edu/documents/asr.pdf

1. For Students, sanctions may include one or more of the following:

- a. Expulsion. Mandatory separation from the College with no promise of future re-admission. A student who has been expelled is barred from enrolling at or visiting any of the campuses or centers of Eastern Florida State College. TERMS, DEFINITIONS AND CONDUCT GUIDELINES

The terms set forth below and referenced in the College's Sexual Misconduct policy and procedure have the following meanings:

1. SEXUAL HARASSMENT

Sexual Harassment is defined as unwelcome conduct of a sexual nature, including but not limited to unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, other verbal, nonverbal, visual, or physical conduct of a sexual nature, such as acts of Sexual Violence (defined below), or other offensive behavior directed toward an individual because of or on account of the individual's sex or sexual orientation, whether by a person of the same or opposite gender, when either:

a. Submission to, rejection, or toleration of such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual's employment, education, or participation in a College program or activity, or is used as a basis or factor in decisions affecting an individual's employment, education, or participation in a College program or activity ("Quid Pro Quo Sexual Harassment"); or

b. Such conduct creates a Hostile Environment (defined below).

Sexual Harassment may include incidents between any members of the College community, including faculty and other academic appointees, staff, coaches, residents and interns, students, student employees (when acting within the course and scope of employment), and non-student or non-employee participants in College programs, such as vendors, contractors, visitors, and patients. Sexual Harassment may occur in hierarchical relationships or between peers, or between persons of the same sex or opposite sex.

Sexual Harassment may occur in many forms. When determining whether alleged conduct constitutes Sexual Harassment, the conduct will be evaluated based upon the standard of a reasonable person in the position of the reporting party, taking into consideration the context and circumstances in which the conduct occurred. Examples of behavior that might be considered Sexual Harassment include, but are not limited to:

- Threats, either directly or by implication, of adverse employment or academic action if sexual favors are not granted or punishing, either directly or by implication, for refusing to tolerate harassment, for refusing to submit to sexual activity, or for reporting harassment;
- Promising favorable treatment or continued employment in return for sexual favors;
- Change of academic or employment responsibilities (increase in difficulty or decrease of responsibility) based on sex or gender-related status;
- Unwanted, unnecessary or objectively inappropriate physical contact or suggestive body language, such as touching, patting, pinching, hugging, kissing, or brushing against an individual's body, especially after being told to such behavior was unwanted, unnecessary or inappropriate;
- Any act of Sexual Violence (as defined below);

- Physical coercion or pressure of an individual to engage in sexual activity or punishment for a refusal to respond or comply with sexual advances;
- Display or distribution of pornographic material or sexual explicit drawings, pictures, or written materials;
- Sexual rumors or ratings of sexual activity/performance or the circulation, display, or creation of e-mails or websites of a sexual nature;
- Excessively offensive remarks, including unwelcome graphic or suggestive comments about an individual's body, appearance or dress,
- Jokes and humor about sex or gender-specific traits;
- Inappropriate use of sexually explicit or offensive language or derogatory language directed at another person's sexuality, gender, gender identity, sexual orientation or gender expression;
- Insults and threats based on sex, gender, gender identity, sexual orientation or gender expression;
- The display in the workplace of sexually suggestive objects or pictures which create an intimidating or Hostile Environment;
- The display or circulation of written materials or pictures degrading to an individual(s) or gender group where such display is not directly related to an educational/pedagogical, artistic, or work goal;
- Acts of verbal, nonverbal, or physical aggression, intimidation, or hostility based on sex or sex-stereotyping. Harassment for exhibiting what is perceived as a stereotypical characteristic for one's sex, or for failing to conform to stereotypical notions of masculinity and femininity, regardless of actual or perceived gender related status of the harasser or her/his/their target;
- Abusive, disruptive or harassing behavior, whether verbal or physical, which endangers another's mental or physical health, including but not limited to threats, acts of violence, or assault based on gender related status and/or in the context of intimate partner violence;
- Other unwelcome and unwanted conduct of a sexual nature, such as leering, name calling, suggestive comments and sexual propositions or innuendos and other oral, written or electronic communications of a sexual nature that an individual communicates is unwanted and unwelcome.

Sexual Harassment in any form is prohibited by the College, and the above definition and examples will be used in determining whether a responding party is responsible for committing Sexual Harassment under the College's Sexual Misconduct policy and procedure; with the understanding that while the above examples are illustrative, the list is not exhaustive.

2. GENDER-BASED HARASSMENT

Gender-Based Harassment is unwelcome conduct of a non-sexual nature based upon an individual's actual or perceived sex, including conduct based on an individual's sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, and nonconformity with gender stereotypes.

Gender-Based Harassment that creates a Hostile Environment is prohibited by the College, and the above definition will be used in determining whether a responding party is responsible for committing Gender-Based Harassment under the College's Sexual Misconduct policy and procedure.

3. UNWELCOME CONDUCT

Conduct is considered unwelcome if a person did not request or invite it and considered the conduct to be undesirable or offensive. Unwelcome conduct may take various forms, including name-calling, graphic or written statements (including the use of cell phones or the Internet), or other conduct that may be physically threatening, harmful, or humiliating. Unwelcome conduct does not have to include intent to harm, be directed at a specific target, or involve repeated incidents. Unwelcome conduct can involve persons of the same or opposite sex. Participation in the conduct or the failure to complain does not always mean that the conduct was welcome. The fact that a person may have welcomed some conduct does not necessarily mean that the person welcomed other conduct. Also, the fact that a person requested or invited conduct on one occasion does not mean that the conduct is welcome on a subsequent occasion.

Unwelcome conduct is prohibited by the College.

4. HOSTILE ENVIRONMENT

A Hostile Environment exists when conduct is sufficiently serious to deny or limit an individual's ability to participate in or benefit from the College's programs or activities. A hostile environment can be created by anyone involved in a College's program or activity (e.g., administrators, faculty members, students, and campus visitors).

In determining whether conduct has created or evinced a Hostile Environment, the College considers the conduct in question from both a subjective and objective perspective. It will be necessary, but not enough, that the conduct was unwelcome to the individual who was harassed. But the College will also need to find that a reasonable person in the individual's position would have perceived the conduct as undesirable or offensive in order for that conduct to create or contribute to a Hostile Environment.

To make the ultimate determination of whether a Hostile Environment exists for an individual or individuals, the College considers a variety of factors related to the severity, persistence, or pervasiveness of the conduct including: (1) the type, frequency, and duration of the conduct; (2) the identity and relationships of persons involved; (3) the number of individuals involved; (4) the location of the conduct and the context in which it occurred; and, (5) the degree to which the conduct affected one or more student's education.

The more severe the conduct, the less need there is to show a repetitive series of incidents to find a Hostile Environment. Indeed, a single instance of Sexual Violence (defined below) may be sufficient to create a Hostile Environment. Likewise, a series of incidents may be sufficient even if the conduct is not particularly severe.

First Amendment Considerations – This procedure does not impair the exercise of rights protected under the First Amendment; rather, it prohibits only conduct that creates a Hostile Environment. In this way, the College applies and enforces this procedure in a manner that respects the First Amendment rights of students, faculty, and others.

5. CONSENT

Consent is defined as follows:

- a. Consent is informed. Consent consists of an affirmative, conscious decision by each participant to engage in mutually agreed-upon sexual activity. Consent to some form of sexual activity does not imply consent to other forms of sexual activity.
- b. Consent is voluntary. It is given without coercion, force, threats, or intimidation; it is a positive cooperation in the act or expression of intent to engage in the act pursuant to an exercise of free will.
- c. Consent is given when the person is not impaired or incapacitated. A person cannot consent if s/he is unconscious or coming in and out of consciousness. A lack of "no" does not mean "yes." A person cannot consent if s/he is under the threat of violence, bodily injury or other forms of coercion, or has a mental disorder, developmental disability, or physical disability that would impair his/her understanding of the act. Consent cannot be given by persons who have not yet reached the legal age of consent in the State of Florida.
- d. Incapacitation is the physical and/or mental inability to make informed, rational judgments. States of incapacitation include, but are not limited to, unconsciousness, sleep and blackouts.
- e. Where alcohol and/or drugs are involved, incapacitation is distinct from drunkenness or intoxication, and is defined with respect to how the alcohol or other drugs consumed impacts a person's decision-making capacity, awareness of consequences, and ability to make fully informed judgments. The factors to be considered include whether the responding party knew, or a reasonable person in the position of the responding party should have known, that the reporting party was impaired or incapacitated.
- f. In Florida, the term "consent" is statutorily defined as intelligent, knowing, and voluntary consent and does not include coerced submission. Consent shall not be deemed or construed to mean the failure by the alleged victim to offer physical resistance to the offender. See Florida Statute 794.011(1)(a).

6. SEXUAL VIOLENCE

Sexual Violence is defined as physical sexual acts perpetrated against a person's will or where a person is incapable of giving consent (e.g. due to the person's age or use of drugs or alcohol, or because of an intellectual or another disability that prevents the person from having the capacity to give consent). A number of different acts may fall under the category of Sexual Violence, including:
